

SPELLSTAFF V2.0 (WANDS AND WIZARDS 5E)

A young boy stands in front of a fountain, eyes wide with wonder as water curls around his outstretched arms, leaving indelible marks on not just his skin, but his very soul.

A wiry woman shouts at a room full of students to repeat a combat drill, the rhythmic swishing and pounding of dozens of staves accompanied by the crackling feeling of gathering power.

A dragon-winged man slams his staff down onto snowy ground, causing a storm of arrows to divert around him, the few arrows that manage to strike true bouncing off of the silvery scales that cover his body.

Hidden atop the snowy reaches of Mount Everest, surrounded by an enchanted labyrinth of countless secrets, lies an impossibly tall, black stone monolith: Ā'irī, School of Spellstaves. Though it appears to have no windows from the outside, this is but an illusion that dissipates the moment you step into it. The hallmark of Ā'irī is openness, with vaulted ceilings, vast windows, and dizzying heights. Its students, called Spellstaves, blend spellcasting with martial prowess, calling upon the power of the dragons roosting in Ā'irī to guide them. While most of these students excel most in combat, each of them carries a unique ability to see certain events just before they happen, giving them an edge in nearly any situation.

DRACONIC BLESSINGS

Atop Ā'irī is the Āṃkhā, or the Dragon's Eye. This strange phenomenon is a beacon, attracting dragons from all over the world and inspiring them to protect the students within. Nobody is sure how it works, although legends have many tales to tell.

Legend says that Ā'irī used to be an incredibly powerful dragon who transfigured himself into Ā'irī to provide a refuge for students of all walks of life, and the Āṃkhā is the manifestation of their soul. The Āṃkhā, and the dragons it attracts, infuses mages with unique power.

LIFE AT Ā'IRĪ

The curriculum at Ā'irī is esoteric, teaching students use staves as opposed to wands, and though many witches and wizards look down upon the Ā'irikō for inferior spellcasting, nobody holds these beliefs after seeing a master Spellstaff in action. The program is eight years, with students separated into houses based on various personality traits, and holds the highest population of students throughout the world.

The sorting process includes the magical Scrivener's Fountain that permanently paints the arms of the students with sigils. The coloring of the tattoos – grey, blue, or white – signifies the house.

CLASS FEATURES

As a Spellstaff, you gain the following class features:

HIT POINTS

Hit Dice: 1d8 per Spellstaff level

Hit Points at 1st Level: 1d8 + your Constitution modifier

Hit Points at Higher Levels: 1d8 (or 5) + your Constitution modifier per Spellstaff level after 1st.

PROFICIENCIES

Weapons: Staves

Saving Throws: Wisdom, Strength

Skills: Choose two from Acrobatics, Athletics, Survival, Herbology, and Magical Creatures.

SCRIVENER'S SCRAWLINGS

At 1st level, you undergo the sorting ritual at the Scrivening Fountain, anchoring your soul to Ā'irī. The entity within the Fountain paints your upper body with glyphs, sigils, and patterns. These tattoo-like Scrawlings contain indecipherable arcane knowledge about the past, present and future, often changing while you sleep. When you finish a long rest, you gain one skill or tool proficiency of your choice. You must replace this proficiency with a different proficiency when you finish a long rest.

Additionally, after 1 minute of touching the surface on which a written language is written, your Scrawlings will dissolve and reassemble into a translation of that text.

THE SCRIVENER

The Scrivener is a far more present force at Ā'irī than the Sorting Hat at Hogwarts. They're a seer and a trickster, that puts students in the houses they are destined to be in. They travel through the secret passages that riddle the school, playing tricks and speaking in riddles, but never doing harm. The Scrawlings are the Scrivener looking into the student's past, present, and future and doodling the moments that stick out the most – they're just really good at doodling.

DRAGON'S STRIKE

Also at 1st level, the Dragonkeepers teach you ancient techniques that are fueled by special Dragon's dice.

Maneuver. You learn two maneuvers of your choice. Many maneuvers enhance an attack in some way. You can use only one maneuver per attack. You learn two additional maneuvers of your choice at 6th, 11th, and 15th level. Each time you learn new maneuvers, you can also replace one maneuver you know with a different one. At third level, you must change any maneuvers you have to align with your chosen staff, and new maneuvers must do the same.

Dragon's Dice. You have three Dragon's dice, which are d8s. A Dragon's die is expended when you use it. You regain all of your expended dice when you finish a short or long rest. You gain another Dragon's die at 6th, 11th, and 15th level.

Saving Throws. Some of your maneuvers require your target to make a saving throw to resist the maneuver's effects. The saving throw DC is calculated as follows:

Maneuver save DC = 8 + your proficiency bonus + your Wisdom modifier

SHIELDING SIGILS

At 2nd level, your magic ripples along the runes emblazoned on your skin. When you are hit by an attack or you fail a saving throw, you can use your reaction to channel soul magic into your Scrawlings, gaining a +2 bonus to your AC against that attack or a +2 bonus to that saving throw. You can only use this reaction while you are not incapacitated.

You can use this feature a number of times equal to your Wisdom modifier, and you regain all expended uses when you finish a short or long rest.

FIGHTING STYLE

Also at 2nd level, You adopt a particular style of fighting as your specialty. Choose one of the following options.

Blind Fighting. You have blindsight with a range of 10 feet. Within that range, you can effectively see anything that isn't behind total cover, even if you're blinded or in darkness. Moreover, you can see an invisible creature within that range, unless the creature successfully hides from you.

Defense. While you are wielding a staff, you gain a +1 bonus to AC.

Great Weapon Fighting. When you roll a 1 or 2 on a damage die for an attack you make with a staff that you are wielding with two hands, you can reroll the die and must use the new roll, even if the new roll is a 1 or a 2.

Protection. When a creature you can see attacks a target other than you that is within 5 feet of you, you can use your reaction to impose disadvantage on the attack roll. You must be wielding a staff.

STAVES

Staves, though not widely used by the Western wizarding world, are an important aspect of life at Ā'irī. After a year of training in both types, students pick one of two types of staves. Long Clawstaves are more brutal, require raw strength and grit to wield, and short, baton-like Scalestaves requires more finesse, picking pressure points and striking them with accuracy, not force.

CLAWSTAFF

Melee weapon (simple, staff)

Damage: 1d6

Damage Type: Bludgeoning

Properties: Versatile (1d8)

SCALESTAFF

Melee weapon (martial, staff)

Damage: 1d6

Damage Type: Bludgeoning

Properties: Finesse

SPELLCASTING

By 2nd level, your connection to Ā'irī through your Scrawlings solidifies enough to begin channeling spells through your staff.

SPELL SLOTS

The Spellstaff table shows how many spell slots you have to cast your spells of 1st level and higher. To cast one of these spells, you must expend a slot of the spell's level or higher. You regain all expended spell slots when you finish a long rest.

SPELLS KNOWN

You learn the Atramento Caenum cantrip.

Additionally, you know two 1st-level spells of your choice from the Spellstaff spell list.

The Spells Known column of the Spellstaff table shows when you learn more Spellstaff spells of your choice. Each of these spells must be of a level for which you have spell slots. For instance, when you reach 5th level in this class, you can learn one new spell of 1st or 2nd level.

Additionally, when you gain a level in this class, you can choose one of the Spellstaff spells you know and replace it with another spell from the Spellstaff spell list, which also must be of a level for which you have spell slots.

SPELLCASTING ABILITY

Wisdom is your spellcasting ability for your Spellstaff spells. You use your Wisdom whenever a spell refers to your spellcasting ability. In addition, you use your Wisdom modifier when setting the saving throw DC for a Spellstaff spell you cast and when making an attack roll with one.

Spell save DC = 8 + your proficiency bonus +
your Wisdom modifier

Spell attack modifier = your proficiency bonus +
your Wisdom modifier

SPELLCASTING FOCUS

You can use a staff as a spellcasting focus for your Spellstaff spells. A staff is not an implement widely used in the Western world, but the isolation of Ā'irī paired with Mount Everest's abundance of trees suitable for wandmaking have allowed the practice to stick around for the students and graduates of the school.

Ā'IRĪKŌ STAFF

Beginning at 3rd level, your training with the staff allows you to bond with a specific staff, learning to use it as an inseparable extension of yourself. Choose a Clawstaff or a Scalestaff, and bond it to become your Ā'irīkō Staff. It takes on a unique characteristic, such as illusory flames or twisting blackened runes, that dazzle the eye, granting you advantage on Performance checks to flourish or otherwise entertain with your Staff.

Additionally, you may use an action to summon your staff to a free hand with an arcane command word set at the moment of the Staff's bonding.

DRACONIC MASTERY

At 3rd level, you choose to focus your studies on a particular branch of study. Your choice grants you features at 3rd level and again at 7th, 10th, 14th, and 20th level.

ABILITY SCORE IMPROVEMENT

When you reach 4th level, and again at 8th, 12th, 16th, and 19th level, you can increase one ability score of your choice by 2, or you can increase two ability scores of your choice by 1. As normal, you can't increase an ability score above 20 using this feature. Alternatively, you can choose a feat.

MARTIAL MAGIC

Beginning at 5th level, you can attack twice, instead of once, whenever you take the Attack action on your turn.

You can replace one of these attacks with a quick casting of the Atramento Caenum spell, which only deals 1d4 radiant damage when cast in this manner.

IMPROVED DRAGONSTRIKES

At 10th level, your mastery of the ancient draconic maneuvers reaches new heights, and your Dragon's dice turn into d10s. At 18th level, they turn into d12s.

Ā'IRĪKŌ ASCENDANCE

Beginning at 11th level, your staff becomes an extension of your very soul, as well as that of Āmḡkhā. As a free action, you can cause your Ā'irīkō Staff to extend, spectral staff segments granting it a melee range of 15'.

Additionally, when you use a maneuver granted by your Dragon's Strike feature, you may deal radiant damage instead of bludgeoning damage with the attack.

SOULBOUND STAFF

Starting at 14th level, your Scrivener's Scrawlings truly anchor you to Ā'irī, and your Ā'irīkō Staff to you. When you are using your Shielding Sigils, the bonuses provided increase to a +3 bonus to your AC against the triggering attack or a +4 bonus to the triggering saving throw.

Additionally, your Staff cannot be broken, and you can summon it wordlessly as a bonus action. If you do not have a free hand, it floats beside you until you grab it.

DRACONIC MASTERIES

Upon binding their Ā'irīkō Staff, students prioritize one of three Masteries: Soul, Body, or Mind.

MASTERY OF THE DRAGON'S SOUL

Students of the Mastery of the Dragon's Soul channel the radiant altruism of Āṁkhā, the original primordial dragon whose immortal soul powers Ā'irī. They become almost-holy hunters of the profane, seeking out Dark wizards and beings such as dementors and doing their utmost to stop them from causing harm.

SOUL SPELLS

Upon choosing this Mastery at 3rd level, you learn an additional spell when you reach certain levels in this class, as shown in the Soul Spells table. Each spell counts as a Spellstaff spell for you, but it doesn't count against the number of Spellstaff spells you know.

SOUL SPELLS

Spellstaff Level	Spell
3rd	Lumos Lamina
5th	Incarcerous
9th	Repello Inimicum
13th	Invito Spiritus Sublimis
17th	Salvio Hexia

BINDING LIGHT

At 3rd level, the light of any magic resonates with the light of Āṁkhā within you. When you are in bright light from a magical source and you hit a creature with a melee weapon attack, the creature's speed is halved until the start of your next turn.

Additionally, you can cast the lumos maxima spell once without expending a spell slot. You must finish a long rest to cast this spell again with this feature.

SOUL COALESCENCE

Starting at 7th level, you can forge a soul bond among people who are united by cause. Once per long rest as an action, you choose a number of willing creatures within 30 feet of you (this can include yourself) equal to your proficiency bonus. You create a magical bond among them until you use this feature again. While any bonded creature is within 30 feet of another, the creature can roll a d4 and add the number rolled to an attack roll, an ability check, or a saving throw it makes. Each creature can add the d4 no more than once per turn.

LIGHT AGAINST DARKNESS

At 10th level, your pursuit of abhorrent magic has honed your senses. You feel the faintest of shivers down your spine whenever you come within 60 feet of a creature or place that has been scarred, warped or otherwise touched by Dark magic. You cannot determine the direction nor identify the source of this magic, but if you come in direct physical contact with the source, you will feel another shudder, confirming Dark magic's influence.

STRENGTH OF SOUL

At 15th level, creatures of darkness revile you, and you become inured to their worst facets. Dark creatures have disadvantage on attack rolls against you, and you can't be charmed, frightened, or possessed by them.

ĀṁKHĀ'S ASPECT

At 20th level, you can tap into the raw power of the Dragon's Eye wherever you are. As a bonus action, you gain the following benefits for 1 minute:

- Draconic wings sprout from your back and grant you a flying speed of 60 feet.
- Bright light shines from you in a 30-foot radius, and dim light shines 30 feet beyond that.
- Whenever an enemy creature starts its turn in the bright light, the creature takes 10 radiant damage. Once you use this feature, you can't use it again until you finish a long rest, unless you expend a 5th-level spell slot to use it again.

MASTERY OF THE DRAGON'S BODY

Students of the Mastery of the Dragon's Body typically go on to be defenders of the weak, protecting Muggle villages in the Himalayas from that which they cannot understand. They choose to focus on empowering their physical forms to better reflect physical aspects of the dragons that roost at Ā'irī, forgoing more powerful casting.

BODY SPELLS

Upon choosing this Mastery at 3rd level, you learn an additional spell when you reach certain levels in this class, as shown in the Body Spells table. Each spell counts as a Spellstaff spell for you, but it doesn't count against the number of Spellstaff spells you know.

BODY SPELLS

Spellstaff Level	Spell
3rd	Arresto Momentum
5th	Gravitaria
9th	Āṁkhā Aplexum
13th	Repello Muggletum
17th	Obliviate

STRENGTH OF THE DRAGON

As Eyrian magic flows through your body, it causes physical traits of Ā'irī's guardians to manifest. At 3rd level, your hit point maximum increases by 3 and increases by 1 again whenever you gain a level in this class.

Additionally, parts of your skin are covered by a thin sheen of dragon-like scales. Your AC equals 13 + your Dexterity modifier OR 13 + your Strength modifier.

RULE TIP: AC CALCULATIONS DON'T STACK

When the game gives you more than one way to calculate your Armor Class, you can use only one of them. You choose the one to use. For example, if you have the Strength of the Dragon feature and are wearing a cloak, you don't mix them together. Instead, choose which one determines your AC.

FEATHERLIGHT STEP

At 7th level, combat drills on the sheer precipices of Ā'irī have honed your balance to preternatural heights. Your speed increases by 10 feet, and you can move along vertical surfaces and across liquids on your turn without falling during the move.

WANDERING DEFENDER

At 10th level, you've completed specialized training to live among and protect Muggle communities. You gain expertise with the Muggle Studies skill, which means your proficiency bonus is doubled for any ability check you make with it.

Additionally, you can find a place to hide, rest, or recuperate among both wizards and muggles, unless you have shown yourself to be a danger to them.

WARDING WAVE

At 15th level, you can send out a blast of magic to soften blows and weaken spells. If you or a creature you can see within 5 feet of you is hit by an attack or spell, as a reaction you can grant the target resistance against the attack or spell's damage.

You can use this feature a number of times equal to your Wisdom modifier (a minimum of once), and you regain all expended uses of it when you finish a long rest.

DRAGON'S FURY

At 20th level, you can center yourself, channeling your magic to enter a state of heightened martial prowess. As a bonus action, you gain the following benefits for 1 minute:

- Once on each of your turns when you make a weapon attack and miss, you can cause that attack to hit instead.
- You have advantage on all Constitution, Dexterity, and Strength saving throws.
- Roll an extra damage die each time you hit with a staff attack.

Once you use this feature, you can't use it again until you finish a long rest, unless you expend a 5th-level spell slot to use it again.

MASTERY OF THE DRAGON'S MIND

Students of the Mastery of the Dragon's Mind focus, more than anything, on emulating the mind of the dragon – the sheer force of will that powers potent spellcasting as well as quick reflexes and raw strength. There is no particular trend in terms of chosen profession, as their more powerful spellcasting allows them to interface on a more even level with Western witches and wizards.

MIND SPELLS

Upon choosing this Mastery at 3rd level, you learn an additional spell when you reach certain levels in this class, as shown in the Mind Spells table. Each spell counts as a Spellstaff spell for you, but it doesn't count against the number of Spellstaff spells you know.

MIND SPELLS

Spellstaff Level	Spell
3rd	Celeria
5th	Draco Spiritum
9th	Fulguria Gradus
13th	Confundo
17th	Apparitus Illisus

SPELLSLINGER

At 3rd level, you learn two cantrips of your choice from the Wands and Wizards spell list. They count as Spellstaff spells for you, and Wisdom is your spellcasting ability for them. Whenever you gain a level in this class, you can replace one of these cantrips with another cantrip. You learn another cantrip at 9th level, and again at 13th and 17th level.

Additionally, when you cast Atramento Caenum, the damage dice are increased to d6's.

CAST 'N' CLOBBER

Beginning at 7th level, when you use your action to cast a cantrip, you can make one weapon attack as a bonus action.

INTERNATIONAL DRAKEWARDEN

At 10th level, you've completed your studies of all species of dragons all around the world. Whenever you make an Intelligence (History of Magic) or Wisdom (Magical Creatures) check related to dragons, you are considered proficient in the applicable skill and add double your proficiency bonus to the check, instead of your normal proficiency bonus. Additionally, you're fluent in 10 non-magical languages of your choice.

SCRIVENER'S STRIKE

Starting at 15th level, you've learned to "bleed" your Scrivener's Scrawlings down your staff, sending their arcana to systematically destroy another's. When you use your action to cast a spell, you can make one staff attack as a bonus action. This attack is infused with the full power of the Scrivening Fountain, and scores a critical hit on a roll of 19 or 20. On a hit, you can also end one spell of your choice on the target. The level of the spell you end must be equal to or lower than the level of the spell slot you used as your action, or twice that level if the attack was a critical hit.

You can use this feature a number of times equal to your Wisdom modifier, and regain uses of this feature at the end of a long rest.

ĀṁKHā's OVERCHARGE

At 20th level, you can temporarily blend spells and staff mastery with perfect harmony. As a bonus action, you gain the following benefits for 1 minute:

- When you cast a spell that deals damage and isn't a cantrip, you can deal maximum damage with that spell. You take 1d20 necrotic damage for each level of the spell, immediately after you cast it. This damage ignores resistance and immunity.
- When you use your action to cast a spell, you can make one weapon attack as a bonus action.
- When you hit a creature with a weapon attack, the first time it makes a saving throw, it must roll a d4 and subtract the number rolled from the save.

Once you use this feature, you can't use it again until you finish a long rest, unless you expend a 5th-level spell slot to use it again.

FALLING HAZARD!

As a part of the sorting ceremony at the Scrivener's Fountain, each student receives an item called a Fallband, to protect them from falls in the precarious halls of the Eyrie, as well as allow them to enter the Muggle world without attracting too much attention.

FALLBAND

Item Rarity: Uncommon

While wearing this metal bracelet finely engraved with the symbols of your house, you can use the arresto momentum spell at will, targeting only yourself. Additionally, you can use an action to magically hide your Scrivener's Scrawlings.

CELERIA

The Dashing Charm – 1st-level charm

Casting Time: 1 bonus action

GRAVITARIA

The Gravity Shift Charm – 2nd-level charm

Casting Time: 1 action

Range: Self (30 feet)

Duration: Instantaneous

Gravity shifts in a violent manner, changing your personal definition of "down." Pick a creature or object within 30 feet of you. You fall towards the target, and upon reaching it you may make a single weapon attack against it. If the attack hits, the weapon deals an extra 3d6 bludgeoning damage.

Regardless of whether the attack hits, gravity rights itself after the impact, depositing you neatly on your feet next to the target.

DRACO SPIRITUM

The Dragon's Breath Invocation – 2nd-level charm

Casting Time: 1 bonus action

Range: Touch

Duration: Concentration, up to 1 minute

You touch one willing creature and imbue it with the power of Ā'irī, allowing it to spew radiant energy from its mouth, provided it has one. Until the spell ends, the creature can use an action to exhale radiant energy in a 15-foot cone. Each creature in that area must make a Dexterity saving throw, taking 3d6 radiant damage on a failed save, or half as much damage on a successful one.

FULGURIA GRADUS

The Hastening Charm – 3rd-level charm

Casting Time: 1 action

Range: 30 feet

Duration: Concentration, up to 1 minute

Choose a willing creature that you can see within range. Until the spell ends, the target's speed is doubled, it gains a +2 bonus to AC, it has advantage on Dexterity saving throws, and it gains an additional action on each of its turns. That action can be used only to take the Attack (one weapon attack only), Dash, Disengage, Hide, or Use an Object action.

When the spell ends, the target can't move or take actions until after its next turn, as a wave of lethargy sweeps over it.

ĀṂKHĀ APLEXUM

The Draconic Embrace Charm – 3rd-level charm

Casting Time: 1 action

Range: Self

Duration: Concentration, up to 1 minute

Draconic power radiates from you in an aura with a 30-foot radius, awakening boldness in friendly creatures. Until the spell ends, the aura moves with you, centered on you. While in the aura, each non-hostile creature in the aura (including you) may deal an extra 1d4 radiant damage when it hits with a weapon or spell attack.

INVITO SPIRITUS SUBLIMIS

The Greater Summons Ritual – 4th-level transfiguration

Casting Time: 10 minutes

Range: 30 feet

Duration: Instantaneous

You summon a spirit that assumes the form of a loyal, majestic mount. Appearing in an unoccupied space within range, the spirit takes on a form you choose: a griffon, a pegasus, or a hippogriff. The creature has the statistics provided in the Monster Book of Monsters for the chosen form. Additionally, if it has an Intelligence score of 5 or lower, its Intelligence becomes 6, and it gains the ability to understand one language of your choice that you speak. You control the mount in combat. While the mount is within 1 mile of you, you can communicate with it telepathically. While mounted on it, you can make any spell you cast that targets only you also target the mount. The mount disappears temporarily when it drops to 0 hit points or when you dismiss it as an action. Casting this spell again re-summons the bonded mount, with all its hit points restored and any conditions removed. You can't have more than one mount bonded by this spell or find steed at the same time. As an action, you can release a mount from its bond, causing it to disappear permanently. Whenever the mount disappears, it leaves behind any objects it was wearing or carrying.

APPARITUS ILLISUS

The Apparition Attack Hex – 5th-level hex

Casting Time: 1 action

Range: 30 feet

Duration: Instantaneous

You flourish the weapon used in the casting and then vanish to strike like the wind. Choose up to five creatures you can see within range. Make a melee spell attack against each target. On a hit, a target takes 6d8 force damage.

You can then teleport to an unoccupied space you can see within 5 feet of one of the targets you hit or missed.

Ā'IRĪKŌ MANEUVERS

The following options are available to you as a part of your Brandishing Strike feature. After choosing an Ā'irīkō Staff at third level, your maneuvers must align with the chosen Staff.

CLAWSTAFF MANEUVERS

BRACE

When a creature you can see moves into the reach you have with the melee weapon you're wielding, you can use your reaction to expend one Dragon's die and make one attack against the creature, using that weapon. If the attack hits, add the Spellstaff die to the weapon's damage roll.

GOADING ATTACK

When you hit a creature with a weapon attack, you can expend one Dragon's die to attempt to goad the target into attacking you. You add the Dragon's die to the attack's damage roll, and the target must make a Wisdom saving throw. On a failed save, the target has disadvantage on all attack rolls against targets other than you until the end of your next turn.

GRAPPLING STRIKE

Immediately after you hit a creature with a melee attack on your turn, you can expend one Dragon's die and then try to grapple the target as a bonus action. Add the Dragon's die to your Strength (Athletics) check.

LUNGING ATTACK

When you make a melee weapon attack on your turn, you can expend one Dragon's die to increase your reach for that attack by 5 feet. If you hit, you add the Dragon's die to the attack's damage roll.

MANEUVERING ATTACK

When you hit a creature with a weapon attack, you can expend one Dragon's die to maneuver one of your comrades into a more advantageous position. You add the Dragon's die to the attack's damage roll, and you choose a friendly creature who can see or hear you. That creature can use its reaction to move up to half its speed without provoking opportunity attacks from the target of your attack.

MENACING ATTACK

When you hit a creature with a weapon attack, you can expend one Dragon's die to attempt to frighten the target. You add the Dragon's die to the attack's damage roll, and the target must make a Wisdom saving throw. On a failed save, it is frightened of you until the end of your next turn.

PARRY

When another creature damages you with a melee attack, you can use your reaction and expend one Dragon's die to reduce the damage by the number you roll on your Dragon's die + your Dexterity modifier.

PUSHING ATTACK

When you hit a creature with a weapon attack, you can expend one Dragon's die to attempt to drive the target back. You add the Dragon's die to the attack's damage roll, and if the target is Large or smaller, it must make a Strength saving throw. On a failed save, you push the target up to 15 feet away from you.

SWEEPING ATTACK

When you hit a creature with a melee weapon attack, you can expend one Dragon's die to attempt to damage another creature with the same attack. Choose another creature within 5 feet of the original target and within your reach. If the original attack roll would hit the second creature, it takes damage equal to the number you roll on your Dragon's die. The damage is of the same type dealt by the original attack.

TRIP ATTACK

When you hit a creature with a weapon attack, you can expend one Dragon's die to attempt to knock the target down. You add the Dragon's die to the attack's damage roll, and if the target is Large or smaller, it must make a Strength saving throw. On a failed save, you knock the target prone.

SCALESTAFF MANEUVERS

AMBUSH

When you make a Dexterity (Stealth) check or an initiative roll, you can expend one Dragon's die and add the die to the roll, provided you aren't incapacitated.

BAIT AND SWITCH

When you're within 5 feet of a creature on your turn, you can expend one Dragon's die and switch places with that creature, provided you spend at least 5 feet of movement and the creature is willing and isn't incapacitated. This movement doesn't provoke opportunity attacks.

Roll the Dragon's die. Until the start of your next turn, you or the other creature (your choice) gains a bonus to AC equal to the number rolled.

COMMANDING PRESENCE

When you make a Charisma (Intimidation), a Charisma (Performance), or a Charisma (Persuasion) check, you can expend one Dragon's die and add it to the ability check.

DISARMING ATTACK

When you hit a creature with a weapon attack, you can expend one Dragon's die to attempt to disarm the target, forcing it to drop one item of your choice that it's holding. You add the Dragon's die to the attack's damage roll, and the target must make a Strength saving throw. On a failed save, it drops the object you choose. The object lands at its feet.

DISTRACTING STRIKE

When you hit a creature with a weapon attack, you can expend one Dragon's die to distract the creature, giving your allies an opening. You add the Dragon's die to the attack's damage roll. The next attack roll against the target by an attacker other than you has advantage if the attack is made before the start of your next turn.

FEINTING ATTACK

You can expend one Dragon's die and use a bonus action on your turn to feint, choosing one creature within 5 feet of you as your target. You have advantage on your next attack roll against that creature before the end of your turn. If that attack hits, add the Dragon's die to the attack's damage roll.

PRECISION ATTACK

When you make a weapon attack roll against a creature, you can expend one Dragon's die to add it to the roll. You can use this maneuver before or after making the attack roll, but before any effects of the attack are applied.

RALLY

On your turn, you can use a bonus action and expend one Dragon's die to bolster the resolve of one of your companions. When you do so, choose a friendly creature who can see or hear you. That creature gains temporary hit points equal to the Dragon's die roll + your Charisma modifier.

RIPOSTE

When a creature misses you with a melee attack, you can use your reaction and expend one Dragon's die to make a melee weapon attack against the creature. If you hit, you add the Dragon's die to the attack's damage roll.

TACTICAL ASSESSMENT

When you make an Intelligence (Investigation), an Intelligence (History), or a Wisdom (Insight) check, you can expend one Dragon's die and add it to the ability check.
